

TWO SEAMEN BADLY HURT WHEN LOADED SHELLS EXPLODED

Haste In Handling Sup- posedly Empty Shell Re- sults In an Explosion

WERE KNOCKING PRIMERS

Men Were Knocking Primers Out of Shells for Reloading—One Loses an Arm, the Other a Leg

BOTH MEN LIKEY TO RECOVER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 8.—A mistake in handling a loaded shell which was believed to be empty, resulted in an explosion on board the United States revenue cutter Tuscarora today which seriously injured two seamen.

The injured are:

F. Diebold, seaman, Muskegon, Mich., left arm lacerated, necessitating amputation below elbow, wounded in thigh and feet burned.

Olaf Foss, gunner, right leg badly lacerated, wound in neck, hands and chest badly cut. Physicians found it necessary to amputate leg below knee.

The injured men probably will recover.

The explosion occurred off Port Washington, while the cutter was en route to Manitowish to engage in target practice. The vessel returned to Milwaukee this afternoon. Foss and Diebold were stationed on the deck knocking the primers out of shells which had been discharged preparatory to reloading for practice. The shells held a three pound missile. Diebold was holding an iron bar against primers of shells, while Foss was striking the end of the bar with a heavy lead mallet. Under the duress of high speed with which the men were working, neither noticed that a shell which Foss picked from the box had never been discharged.

The bar was placed against the primer, the mallet struck and the explosion followed. Both men were thrown ten feet through the air. The force of the explosion shook the vessel from stem to stern. The box in which the shell had been placed was blown almost to atoms. Splinters of lead and brass flew in every direction. A dent an inch deep was made in the hardwood deck timbers, while the wall of a cabinet was blown in.

WARRING FACTIONS IN SAN DOMINGO SIGN PEACE PACT

American Minister James M. Sullivan Makes It Known That Last Civil War Has Been Fought.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Oct. 8.—The American minister to the Dominican Republic, James M. Sullivan, has induced the warring factions in this country to sign a peace pact and the revolution headed by General Horacio Vasquez against the government of the provisional president, Jose Bordas Valdez, is at an end. The American minister's action is the first successful application of the United States government's new Latin-American policy with regard to the Dominican republic, which is to the effect that force of arms can never again settle any question in this country.

Mr. Sullivan has made it known that the last civil war in this republic has been fought. In the future any uprising, he says, will be stamped out as criminal without a conference being held between the opposing factions, the United States government supporting force regardless of the merits of the issue. The people of Santo Domingo are being instructed that the remedy for future grievances lies in the free ballot at a future election. The American policy as announced by Mr. Sullivan has been accepted by all parties, regardless of political affiliations.

MACK AND ATHLETICS ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

TEAM NEEDS NO DAY OF REST WHICH WEATHER MAN MAY FORCE

Manager Mack Does Not Disclose Who Will Pitch the Third Game For Philadelphia—Mathewson's Father Watches Score Board at Nittanyhannock, Penn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Manager Mack and his Athletics arrived here several hours after the Giants reached the city. Mack when asked whom he would pitch tomorrow with Beardsley and Plank not available, replied with a smile, "I still have others."

The team is in good condition he said and needs no day of rest which the forecast indicated might be forced upon the players by rain tomorrow.

Tunkhannock, Pa., Oct. 8.—There was a gray haired man watching the score board here today during the proceeding of the world's series game in Philadelphia to whom the success of Christy Mathewson meant more sentimentally than to any one else, except perhaps, the Giant star pitcher himself. It was Mathewson's father, G. W. Mathewson of Factoryville. He had been summoned here as a witness in court proceeding but when his name was called to take the stand he could not be found. Officers located him in front of the score board.

"I used to play amateur baseball myself years ago," the old man said as he accompanied the officers to court. "I've never even dreamed though, that my boy would achieve the fame as Christy has in the baseball world."

Victim of Over Excitement.

New York, Oct. 8.—A middle aged man who had been leading the cheering in front of a Park Row bulletin board today dropped dead of heart disease as the news was flashed that Mathewson had made a hit in the tenth inning. The victim of over excitement carried a Bowery Mission membership card in his pocket and letters addressed to Edward O'Brien.

Excited Fan Drops Dead.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—While watching an electric score board today John Sherrick collapsed on the side walk and died a few minutes later. It was during the first inning of the contest and eye-witnesses declare that Sherrick had just yelled "give us another homer, Baker."

When the play reproduced on the score board showed that the Athletics' star batsman had struckout, the excited fan dropped to the pavement.

New York, Oct. 8.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, the feather-weight champion, outfought Dick Julian of Syracuse throughout their ten-round bout here tonight. Kilbane weighed in at 123 pounds, Julian 127.

Freshman Loses Memory.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 8.—After participating in a ten-minute scrimmage against the varsity football team this afternoon, Carl Graven, a freshman student in the literary department of the University of Michigan suddenly lost his memory. He was found late wandering aimlessly about the streets and taken to the hospital. Late tonight physicians had been unable to determine the extent or exact nature of his injuries. Graven's home is in Jefferson, Ia.

Welsh Wins Decision.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 9.—Light-weight Freddie Welsh of England tonight won the decision in a one-sided 12-round contest with "Fighting Dick" Hyland of San Francisco. Welsh outboxed and outpointed Hyland, playing a tattoo on his head and body and dancing and dodging around him.

Hyland showed himself capable of taking all the punishment Welsh could inflict and kept coming back for more at all stages of the contest. Hyland did not yield an inch of ground, but seemed powerless to any execution against the Englishman's defense and his stock lightning jabs.

STRIKING MINERS' AND TWO CONSTABLES IN FIERCE BATTLE

An unidentified foreign coal miner shot in abdomen, may die.

Several hundred foreigners, employed at the Harwick mine of Allegheny Coal company at Cheswick have been on strike for several days. Constables Shaner and Boylan visited the village today with warrants for the arrest of two strikers and the shooting followed their attempt to arrest the men.

Conditions are quiet tonight, but a squad of state police was sent to Cheswick as a precautionary measure.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—A. W. Fisher, a wealthy real estate broker of Cameron, Mo., died at a hotel here tonight from injuries he suffered yesterday morning when struck by an automobile.

CONDEMN EFFORTS TO FORCE ACTION

Attacks on Members of Senate Banking and Currency Are Severely Condemned

CRITICISMS ARE DISCUSSED

Discussion Results In Understanding Among Members That No Efforts to Force the Committee to Act Will Be Tolerated

GOOD FEELING AMONG THE MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Attacks on members of the senate banking and currency and efforts to force action by the committee on the administration currency bill were severely condemned in an informal executive session of the committee tonight. Senators O'Gorman and Hitchcock, singled out as individual objects of two attacks within the past three days, demanded that the committee take up the matter and for an hour the criticisms were discussed.

After the meeting Senators Hitchcock said that the members of the committee had unanimously and individually expressed the opinion that any organized effort to coerce the committee or to circulate unfounded criticisms of members of the committee were to be condemned. He also declared that members had condemned the criticism of himself made public in a statement by Representative Carter Glass, who piloted the administration bill through the house.

Results in Good Feeling.

Senator O'Gorman said that the meeting resulted in a general expression of good feeling among the members of the committee and an understanding that no further efforts to force the committee to act prematurely would be tolerated. The letter of President Wilson published today, repudiating a quoted statement attributed to him, characterizing as "rebels" the Democrats opposed to the currency measure, was read in the committee and in connection with statements made by members of the committee was accepted as a disclaimer on the part of the white house of an extraordinary effort to force action by the committee. Chairman Owen, who has led the support of the president's bill in the committee was not present during the discussion. He left shortly after the committee went into executive session.

Aroused Over Criticism.

Senator O'Gorman apparently was greatly aroused over a criticism of his course in the committee published today. He did not reach the committee room until late afternoon and a few minutes after taking his place at the table he interrupted the testimony of Frank A. Vanderlip, of the National City bank, to remark: "I do not exaggerate when I say that no member of this committee is in favor of enacting this bill as it stands today."

Before the committee adjourned Senator Owen said that O'Gorman's statement merely meant that there were amendments which should be incorporated in the bill and not that the bill as a whole was objectionable. Senator Hitchcock then expressed the opinion that the committee would find it difficult to so hasten consideration of the bill so that it could be passed by the senate by the beginning of the regular session on December 1. He said he expected no interference with the committee's course.

The committee adhered to its determination to hear all witnesses desirous of discussing the bill up to Oct. 25.

General endorsement of several features of the bill was voiced today by Mr. Vanderlip, who also suggested numerous amendments which he said were necessary to give the bill a working success.

HAFEE GRANT RESCUES GIRL FROM ATTACK OF MULATTO

Son of U. S. Grant, Jr., Fires Revolver at Girl's Assailant as He Disappears in Darkness But Misses Him.

S. Grant, Jr., near whose home the attack was made. Her screams when the negro struck her brought Grant to the scene.

As the negro fled Grant shot at him with a revolver but missed.

Miss Deeley was badly bruised. The police have found no trace of her assailant.

The Progressive rally in connection with the Illinois state fair ended tonight with the unanimous election of Raymond Robins of Chicago as state chairman to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of John F. Bass of Chicago to qualify. There was a long discussion of a resolution endorsing former State Senator Funk of Bloomington for appointment by Governor Dineen as a member of the newly created public utilities commission. No action was taken.

Democrats from all parts of the state have come to Springfield for the "roundup" tomorrow. The chief topic is the federal senatorial contest next year.

State's Attorney Hoyne Asserts it is the Duty of the State's Attorney to Collect the Fees.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Preparations to file informations in chancery against eighty-eight justices of the peace, sixty-three police magistrates and seven clerks of local courts were made today by State's Attorney Hoyne. He will seek to enjoin the defendants from collecting fees and fines in criminal cases in Cook county.

A law of the last legislature made it the duty of the state's attorney to collect these fees he asserts. The new system Mr. Hoyne said would put a stop to arbitrary action on the part of country justices and magistrates, some of whom, he declared, had arrested automobile speeders and fined them without entering the cases on the docket.

BANKERS OPPOSE CURRENCY MEASURE

Again Declare Their Opposition to Proposed Federal Re- serve Plan of Reform

BANKERS MEET IN BOSTON

Financiers Approve Work of Their Com- mission Which Reports System of Gov- ernmental Control to Be Socialistic

RATIFY ACTION OF THE CONFERENCE

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The bankers of the United States again today declared their opposition to the proposed federal reserve plan of reform in the currency and banking system.

With only one dissenting voice on the final vote more than two thousand bankers from all sections of the country gathered at the first day's sessions of the annual convention of the American Bankers' association, ratified the action of the conference of bankers in demanding amendments to the federal reserve act now pending in congress. The financiers also approved the work of their own currency commission which earlier in the day had reported the system of governmental control proposed in the Glass-Owen bill to be Socialistic and imposing "unwise hardships upon the banks and equally unwise hardships on the general public."

Add an Amendment.

The resolutions in which this ratification and approval were contained also included commendation of "the president, the secretary of the treasury and congress for their efforts to create in this country an elastic as well as safe currency," and pledged them "heartily support for the enactment of proper legislation to that end."

The addition to this paragraph as an amendment to the resolutions was proposed at the afternoon session by former Congressman Joseph O'Neill of Boston.

Mr. O'Neill was one of several speakers whose remarks had been audibly booed from the floor during the forenoon. He and former Congressman Thomas E. McKee of Arkansas, together with H. A. Moehlenpach of Brewster, Wis., president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, had rallied to the defense of the administration, which had been attacked by most of the previous speakers.

Acting President Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, in his annual report, had criticized the currency bill and former Congressman Ebenezer J. Hill of Norfolk, Conn., had attacked the good faith of the administration and introduced resolutions against the bill when ex-Congressman McKee took the floor. His attempted defense of the government was treated with derision. Delegates tried to hush him down, but Mr. McKee stood his ground and asked for a hearing, saying:

"I am a banker myself, but I am unwilling to sanction the language of Chairman Hepburn of the currency commission when he charged the president and congress of this republic with being a pack of Socialists."

"Don't side step the issue," the question really at stake in the currency bill is this:

"Shall the bankers of the United States control the currency of the country or shall the government of the United States control?"

From hundreds of voices there came a reply to the question.

"We should! We should!"

Congressman McKee then exclaimed:

"Yes; in the just the same way every criminal would have the right to be the judge of his own offense, so that he could deliver a verdict of 'not guilty.'"

Some hissing was heard as Mr. McKee finished.

Congressman Hill, in introducing the resolutions, had characterized the bill as it now stands, "providing for a legalized government combination and monopoly as a substitute for the individual competitive enterprise of 25,000 independent banks organized under the existing laws of the states and nation and in which billions of dollars of the people's money have been invested in good faith."

He said the recommendations of the Chicago conference should be followed.

NO QUORUM IS PRESENT.

Havana, Oct. 6.—Only seven senators and forty representatives, all of whom were adherents of President Menocal, were present when the extra session of congress met today. As the number necessary for a quorum is sixteen senators and sixty-one representatives, no session was possible and the presidential message was not read.

ELEVEN ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING OF DEPUTY

OFFICIALS PROBE DEATH OF DEPUTY SHERIFF JOSEPH POLLOCK, JR.

Three Strikers Are Held for Murder —Wounded Prisoner's Statement to Prosecuting Attorney Is Found to Be Incorrect.

CALUMET, Mich., Oct. 8.—Eleven arrests were made in connection with the fatal shooting of Joseph Pollock, Jr., a deputy sheriff by men supposed to be strikers at Huerfonia, near Houghton today, but only three are held. One of the three is Joseph Manerich, who was shot through the stomach by Pollock and who is in a dying condition in a hospital.

Manerich's statement to Prosecuting Attorney Lucas that only he and Pollock were involved and that Pollock shot him and then himself, is disproved by the fact that the bullet which killed Pollock was removed from his head and found to be of different caliber than that of Pollock's revolver.

According to Sheriff Cruise Pollock shot Manerich after Pollock himself had been shot. The sheriff tonight placed a guard around the jail to insure the safety of the two prisoners there.

Preparations are being made by the Calumet and Hecla Mining company to import all the men necessary to take the places of strikers, both at the mines and those of subsidiaries. This method also will be followed by other companies in the district. Both the Calumet and Hecla and the Quincy companies have already brought in a considerable number of men.

The charge was made by Mrs. Catherine Plerro, who claims that she gave Gorber $876 with which to pay her taxes but instead it is alleged, he converted the money to his own use and the property was sold to satisfy a tax judgment of which she knew nothing. Gorber pleaded not guilty.

SULZER'S COUNSEL REST THEIR DEFENSE

Will Not Call Either Governor Sulzer or His Wife to Witness Stand in Impeachment Trial

MARTYR FOR SAKE OF WIFE

Sulzer Decides Not to Defend Himself in Person Because He Does Not Want to Shield Himself Behind His Wife

SARECKY'S TESTIMONY IS UNSHAKEN

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Without calling either Governor Sulzer or his wife to the witness stand, his counsel today rested their defense in the trial of his impeachment. According to D. Cady Herrick, chief of his attorneys, Governor Sulzer decided not to defend himself in person because he did not want to be placed in the position of shielding himself behind his wife—for it was for Mrs. Sulzer, according to the testimony, that the governor had his Wall street dealings.

Judge Herrick said tonight that the governor had heard from many quarters, including Washington, that "any man who would shield himself behind his wife ought to be removed."

Tomorrow and Friday will be devoted to summing up the case by the opposing counsel. Monday next being a holiday the court probably will adjourn from Friday until Tuesday, when it is expected the verdict on the governor's guilt or innocence will be reached.

Picture Him as a Martyr.

"Friends of the governor tonight pictured him as a man who had martyred himself for the sake of his wife. Judge Herrick pointed out that the testimony yesterday of Allan A. Ryan best disclosed the reason why the governor had not taken the stand. This was the conversation which Ryan said he had with the impeached executive early in September in relation to obtaining political influence to stop the trial.

"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer, Ryan's testimony ran, now that certain charges had been made against him that I did not see that he could afford to put himself in a position in which he could not answer the charges. He said that the reason was that he did not want to drag his wife into the situation and put her on the stand."

Sarecky's Story Unchanged.

Today Judge B. Stanchfield recalled Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary, and continued through the greater part of the day a searching cross-examination in an attempt to discredit his story of yesterday in which he assumed blame for the governor's failure to report his campaign contributions. It was a battle of wits.

In addition to again insisting that the governor had no knowledge that his statements were not correct, Sarecky said he had destroyed all documentary evidence relating thereto.

Sarecky said he had received and deposited in a trust company to his own account about $12,000 of the Sulzer contributions. Of this amount he accounted for the expenditure of $7,724. Pressed for an explanation of the disposition of the balance he said he had paid between $800 and $900 to settle a judgment obtained against Sulzer by "Fred Hastings and his father of Seattle, Wash."

He said he advised the governor that this claim had been settled out of campaign contributions before the campaign statement was filed. In spite of continued question Sarecky said he was "utterly unable" to account for additional expenditures.

QUITS TOBACCO AND SCATTERS TESTAMENTS.

J. F. Pease, Furnace Maker, Now Deceased Was a Practical Christian.

When furnaces were installed recently in the revival tent on the high school lot, Mrs. Rees, the wife of the evangelist was surprised to notice they were made by a good friend, of herself and husband, now deceased, who was widely known as a successful business man and a practical christian who adopted for his special form of well-doing, the spreading broadcast of copies of the New Testament.

J. F. Pease, of Syracuse, N. Y., founder and head of the J. F. Pease Furnace Company, reminded one day by an old Methodist class leader of the lowering effect and waste involved in the use of tobacco, swore off and resolved to put his tobacco money to what he considered a better use, the purchase and dispensing of New Testaments.

For many years he was repaid for adherence to this resolve by seeing the fruits of his giving. He was reminded by a fine young Y. M. C. A. secretary one day that it was the gift of a small new testament to his father that caused him to lead a better life and make possible the rise of his son to a career of usefulness. Again, a lawyer came to Mr. Pease with the assurance that the gift he tactfully gave him, a testament valued at the price of a ten cent cigar, was instrumental in leading to his conversion. To the end of his long life J. F. Pease, wealthy manufacturer of furnaces, received the thanks of men aided by his novel way of doing good with the money he had formerly spent for gratification of his taste for tobacco.

PFANSCHMIDT HAS ANOTHER CHANCE

COMMISSIONER NEWMAN SAID TO HAVE NEW LIGHT PLAN

Is Due With Report To City Council By Next Meeting—May Have Secured Company's Consent to Pay Three Percent on Gross Earnings If Given Street Lighting Contract.

The fact that Commissioner Newman at the last meeting of the city council was granted a week in which to secure or make a proposition relative to city lighting and utility matters indicates that the commissioner is working on these lines and is hopeful of presenting something which will appeal to the other members of the city council and the public generally.

While Mr. Newman has made no statement on the subject it is believed that he has hopes of securing an agreement to a proposition, from the Jacksonville Light Company, very much along the lines of his former report of a proposed arrangement with the company. At that time (about two weeks since) Mr. Newman wanted the Light Company to sell electricity at a maximum of 10-cents; gas at a maximum of $1.10 and to agree to pay the city three percent on the gross earnings of the railway company and the light company, provided the city enters into a contract for the purchase of street light from the company at $60 per arc lamp.

Friends of Mr. Newman think that he now has a like proposition up with the company and that he has some hopes that this time the company will express a willingness to enter into this arrangement and thus settle the utility matters and the lighting proposition all at one time. Mr. Newman figures that 200 street light at $60 would cost $10,000 and that the three percent payment on gross business would reduce this expenditure to $3,500. Under this plan no bond issue would be necessary and thus there would be an added saving of interest of from $2,000 to $2,500 per annum. Mr. Newman promised the council that he would report next Monday or else withdraw all requests for delay on the light bond question and naturally there will be some interest displayed as to what he will have to offer at the next council meeting.

HAIR HINTS

Worthy the Attention of People Who Wish to Preserve Hair.

Never use a brush or comb found in public places. They are usually covered with dandruff germs.

Shampoo the hair every two weeks with pure soap and water, or a good ready prepared shampoo.

Use Parsian Sage every day, rubbing thoroughly into the scalp. This delightful and invigorating hair tonic which Coover & Shreve sell in a large 50 cent bottle is guaranteed to quickly abolish dandruff—to stop hair from falling and scalp from itching or money refunded.

To put life and beauty into dull, dry or faded hair and make it soft and fluffy surely use Parsian Sage—it is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known. Coover & Shreve. (adv.)

DON HAL PROMISES

GREAT THINGS.
At the last racing matinee of the Jacksonville Driving club H. H. Massey started his stallion, Don Hal, and the handsome horse won handsomely in three straight heats. This was Don Hal's first appearance on a local track and all who witnessed the race were impressed with the speed and head that the stallion showed. Charles Massey was in the driver's seat and took the horse under the wire in splendid shape. Don Hal now has all the advantage which comes from a good start on his racing career and can be counted for some still better things in days to come. H. H. Massey is one of the most prominent horsemen in this locality and the impression which Don Hal has made justifies the belief that Mr. Massey's judgment of racing quality will again be evidenced in this stallion.

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health. That is just what is done by

But it will not do to particularize so much, though only here and there has a case been mentioned at all and in no case has justice been done to the lavish display of gold and silver and rare jewels in such profusion as to make one turn his head in wonder and see if he is not dreaming. Here is royal cutlery 300 years old; and here from Prague, Bohemia, is a solid plate forty inches wide and eighty-four long and in bas relief on it is represented an old time tournament. Then there are the Polish banners captured from that unhappy land, coronation chairs of Catharine the Great; belts worn by royalty and set with precious stones; Russian lace set with pearls, rubies and diamonds, a collection of elegant rings, imperial buttons and pearls, rubies, oriental earrings, three banners used at all coronations, beyond a closed door still more precious, the royal crown and priceless jewels, before us a collection of bows and arrows, a sword from the shah of Persia, very costly jewels with it, many rich caskets, hunting outfit of Count Polyonkin, favorite of Catharine the Great, maces of Peter the Great, richly set with jewels, gold and silver ribbons used on royal harness, a large collection of rifles owned by Peter the Great, and one a clumsy attempt at a revolving weapon, great collection of pistols owned by Peter II.; banners taken from the Tartars in 1561, horse covers richly jeweled, banners, holsters and head dresses of Ivan the Terrible, battle axes used by the regiment executed for revolting against Peter the Great, an immense victory eagle, heroic size and and fine screens from Japan, Goebelin tapestries of Catharine the Great, saddles used by Michael at coronation, copper globe made by Prof.
Lomonosoff in time of Catharine the Great, who used to visit the astronomer and see him work, marble statues of Constantine and mother, Saint Helena, various cases of rich and rare articles. In all these scant justice has been done to the immense size of the vessels, rich and rare jewels, lavish use of costliest material, running into the millions, and wonderful designs.

And now we come to a different array, coaches of state and it is impossible to describe them accurately.
They are generally great, lumbering affairs made to show how much could be spent in their construction, gold, silvers costly velvet and satin. They were almost always with great body hung between the axles which were far from the body, immense wheels and all that could go to make up something immense, gaudy, costly and magnificent. Among the collection was the coach or carriage of Catharine the Great and her favorite horse stuffed and mounted, an enormous sleigh carriage made for Empress Elizabeth when she went in the winter in fourteen days from St. Petersburg to Moscow to be crowned.
It contained a bed, table and various conveniences.

Then there was a little, low wheeled rig with two seats facing each and used by Peter the Great when a boy and two others with tops, he used in wet weather and a sledge, used all when a boy. An enormous affair was the state carriage of Empress Elizabeth and it required eight horses to draw it.
Two were of plainer style, one of Peter II. and one of Peter III. Near this in a case is a clock set on a gold elephant drawing a chariot, also of gold and made at the command of Catharine the Great and costing $80,000. Some horse covers and bridles richly jeweled were the property of Peter the Great and a table with inlaid top was shown as the work of that monarch, also the boots he made and the bed on which he slept while working as a ship builder in Holland.

Two pieces of the trees used for the lumber in the first battleship made for the country, state dress and night gowns of first wife of Peter the Great, his cradle, which was a rich kind of hammock swung in a frame above, his baptismal bowl, an immense case for a Bible, boots, shoes, camp bed used by Alexander I.
In 1812; large and fine bedstead and a camp bedstead, both brought from France by Napoleon when he expected to capture the country and left by him when he retreated.

How inadequate is the account I have given of what I saw in that great building. The millions on millions in jewels and costly work, the hosts of things displayed and the great variety doubtless constitute something wholly unequalled in the world.

Temple of the Clerical Exhibition.
We have happened in Moscow at a very fortunate time, it being the 300th anniversary of the Romanoff dynasty. The czar is the head of the Greek church and so on this occasion there are exhibited the rare treasures of the church, and they may be put away after this is over and not be shown again for many years. The exhibit is in a building, a part of a convent and again we looked on millions in jewels and costly vestments, rare books and manuscripts.

A great personage was the patriarch Filaret, father of Michael, first of the Romanoff dynasty. Ivan the Terrible feared him and made him enter a monastery, hoping to get rid of him, but he rose in that place and went on from power to power in spite of the cruel monarch. The rich robe he wore and the three jeweled staffs he carried are shown.

Fine and magnificent crosses of gold, each about fourteen inches long and over all given the church by the different rulers are in a glass case. The original official cross of Filaret and a small gold bound Bible given by the mother of Michael are treasures. Here too are several ancient documents, the decree establishing the Romanoff dynasty, the result of the election making that family the reigning one and several others. An elegant robe given by Michael our guide insisted weighed 90 pounds. It is a mass of rare and costly jewels, pearls predominating, and the square piece worn in front and about 22 inches each side, the guide, who claims to know, said weighed 28 pounds. The cost of all would run into the hundreds of thousands, and it is said to be the most valuable robe in the world and I am ready to believe it.

When a member of the royal family dies the casket is draped with a costly cover which was more used in the olden times than at present possibly. Here is shown the cover of the casket of the first wife of Michael, first emperor of the Romanoffs, and another of his brother, Theodore. Both are magnificent pieces with wrought work and costly.

Michael loved that first wife and the story of his choice is peculiar.
He was selected king when 16 years old and when 15 it was thought he might marry, but of course it must be a woman of suitable rank, so 36 eligible candidates, daughters of men of rank, were assembled in a hall in a row and bade stay there, making no sound of movement. The young king was then asked to walk through the apartment and make his selection of a life partner and he did so, though it cannot be said they lived together happily forever afterward, for the young wife died in two years.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm Tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Company." (adv.)

Yell Defiance at Blood Disorders

A Remedy That Has Shown a Most Remarkable Purifying Effect.

At Last You Can Get Rid of Blood Troubles—S. S. S.

The word medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine S. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply, why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Stomach and Intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of the Swift Specific Co., 219 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient medical department where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may consult freely.

BIG SHORTAGE EXISTS IN THE WORLD'S CROP

Orange Judd Farmer Has Compiled Figures Which Indicate Marked Deficiency in Food Supplies—Supply Ten Per Cent Less Than Last Year.

The Orange Judd Farmer will make public October 11 an extended article dealing with the world's grain supply, giving figures to show that a great shortage exists.

Serious shortage exists in the world's crop of grain for 1913. The supply is nearly 10 per cent less than last year. The total deficiency aggregates 1,250 million bushels of the five grain staples. This shortage is not made up by potatoes, the world's supply of which is no greater than last year, and 300,000,000 bushels less than the world's normal potato crop of 1910.

These amazing conclusions are indicated by the preliminary report upon world's crops and the future of prices prepared by Orange Judd Farmer, the Chicago authority, as of October 1. This authority emphasizes that the four breadstuffs—wheat, oats, rye and barley—will probably be 500 million bushels less this year than in 1912, 70,000,000 bushels less than two years ago, but 4 per cent more than in the 1910 crop.

Ample Supply of Wheat. "Unless Russia and Argentina conclude the year with much greater yields than now seems possible," Orange Judd Farmer says, "the world's wheat production will be only about 100,000,000 bushels more than last year." This will be an increase of only 3 per cent over the supply of wheat produced throughout the world in 1912.

Of this increase, 50,000,000 bushels is due to the extent to which the bonanza wheat crop of the United States and Canada exceeds last year's out-turn.

Orange Judd Farmer preliminary returns the Russian crop as 700 million bushels, which has since been confirmed by the Russian government's pronouncement of 390,000,000.

Heavy Reduction in Oats Crop. The shortage in the world's supply of oats bids fair to be greater than was expected.

With a smaller crop in North America than last year by more than 200,000,000 bushels, and with another 100,000,000 deficit elsewhere, the world's crop of oats may be 10 per cent less than last year, a decrease of 400 million bushels. Orange Judd Farmer reaches this conclusion in spite of allowing that Russia has the most prodigious oats crop in its history—1,000 million bushels.

Barley is much less than usual in North America, but the world's total yield may come up to the normal amount.

Ample Market at Good Prices. It appears from official returns of the actual movement of grain that only about 16 per cent of the world's total wheat crop is consumed outside of the countries of production.

These consuming countries are Great Britain and Europe east of Russia, which is the very region that suffers the heaviest relative deficiency in 1913 grain crops. Therefore, Orange Judd Farmer believes those countries will need to import between 600 and 700 million bushels of wheat during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, thus calling for every bushel of surplus wheat.

In the case of corn, only about 250 million out of an average world's supply of 3,850 million bushels is consumed in the corn-importing countries, but the surplus this year is so reduced that its a question whether any such quantity can be spared.

A Question of Distribution.

"Therefore it is only necessary to distribute and market the supply of grains gradually and evening throughout the coming six to ten months to supply the demand without artificially reducing prices," says the Orange Judd Farmer. It adds: "In view of the increase in population, and general resumption of industrial prosperity throughout the world, the demand for these crops should be even better in the coming months than usual."

"Therefore natural conditions justify a continuance of the fair prices to producers which prevailed during September. Yet if producers and dealers everywhere rush the supply to market, the demand will be exceeded temporarily and prices will be depressed artificially and unnecessarily."

Future of Grain Prices in America.

"A careful analysis prepared by the Orange Judd Farmer service bureau shows that the price of grain in the United States and Canada is more closely affected by the supply and other conditions in the United States and Canada than by the world's supply or Liverpool prices," remarks The Farm, adding: "As a matter of fact Minneapolis may be destined to become the greatest grain market in the world, and may influence prices even more than Liverpool."

TURK CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

New York, Oct. 8.—Hussen Avin, who for several weeks has had the distinction of being the only Turk among the cosmopolitan population of the Tombs prison, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields today in extradition proceedings on the complaint of the Ottoman vice consul here. It is charged that last summer Avin, while employed by the department of posts and telegraphs at Constantinople, falsified a number of telegrams and cable dispatches, and appropriated the money paid by the recipients of bogus messages.

LETTER FROM STATE SUPERINTENDENT.

To Patrons and Taxpayers:

Public education cannot do the impossible. It is not, and never can be, a cure-all for every ailment of society. It is not a substitute for the home, the church and the state. It was founded to supplement and aid those older institutions, and not to supplant them or assume their responsibilities. Its main purpose is to do what no other institution can do in a democratic state—to make certain that all children in the commonwealth, whether they are destitute of home or church influence or not, shall have a free and equal opportunity to acquire those elements and standards of intelligence and citizenship considered essential to the safety of our form of government. For a hundred years its strength and weakness have been tried in the open where all could see and judge. A public concern, its inner and outer affairs have been open to the inspection and scrutiny of every one—to believers and unbelievers, to friends and foes.

Strangely enough, the greatest strength and the greatest weakness of the public school system lies in the very fact that it is constantly subject to the scrutiny of the public eye, and to the control of public opinion. Naturally, wide differences of opinion prevail as to the details of organization and administration. These differences, at times, are so variant and so contradictory as to prevent those quick and necessary adjustments of public instruction to changing social and economic conditions and needs. Thus results that ultra conservative—almost static—condition in certain phases of public schools, which constitute their greatest weakness. On the other hand, the strength of the entire movement lies in this same public scrutiny and control. If public instruction could be disengaged from public scrutiny and public control it might conform its instruction and administration more rapidly to changing conditions, but it would soon appear that such adjustments, however effective, cannot stand unless supported by public consent and public support.

A century of growth and development has shown that our system of free public instruction has won the consent, the support and the approval of the great majority of citizens in the following large lines of modern life and endeavor:

1. To give all its pupils the power to speak and read and write the English language.
2. To give them the power to observe, and understand and appreciate the things of nature.
3. To promote understanding and respect for the physical body and its needs and rights.
4. To establish and fix certain common standards and ideals of civic and social life.
5. To develop the individual and fit him for life and work with his fellows.
6. To give a sound and wholesome view of life; to shape and render more perfect the moral sense and moral judgment; to establish right ideals, right habits and right character.

All these objects the public schools can, and are achieving with not only the consent, but with the approval and support of the public.

F. G. Blair, Superintendent.

MATHEWSON LEADS THE NEW YORK GIANTS TO VICTORY

FAMOUS VETERAN SHUTS OUT THE ATHLETICS IN TEN INNING BATTLE GIANTS WIN SECOND GAME OF WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES BY 3 TO 0 SCORE

"Big Six" Turns Back the Hard Hitting Athletics for Ten Innings Without a Semblance of a Break--In First Half of Tenth Mathewson Drives In the Run That Wins the Game--Athletics Fail to Make Most of Opportunity to Score in the Ninth Inning.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Christy Mathewson, master manipulator of the baseball, led the New York Giants to victory at Shibe Park today when he shut out the Philadelphia Athletics in a ten inning battle by a score of 3 to 0 in the second game of the world's series. Here of a decade of league and world's championship play the famous veteran rose to the highest pinnacle of his diamond career by an exhibition of an around play that wrung volleys of applause from the 20,000 Athletic supporters who were massed in the stands and bleachers expecting to witness a second triumph for the standard bearers of the American league. Box score experts will point out to their figures to prove that eleven other Giants were instrumental in winning the second contest of the series but the Philadelphia fans who filed sadly out of the park spoke only of Mathewson.

For a trifle over two hours and twenty minutes the man, whose requiem was sung by thousands of fans after the final game against the Boston Red Sox in the World's Series of 1912, turned back the hard hitting Athletics without a semblance of a break. Then when he saw that his teammates could not wrest victory from Plank, he took his bat and drove in the run that won the game. Spurred on by his example, the other Giants added two more to clinch the contest but they were not needed. Mathewson was the master to the end, Oldring, Collins and Baker being unable to drive the ball outside the diamond in the tenth and final inning. As a result of Mathewson's prowess, the Giants went back to New York tonight on even terms with the Athletics and the struggle will be renewed at the Polo Grounds tomorrow, weather permitting.

As an exhibition of high class baseball and sensational play, today's game was all an ideal World's Championship contest could be.

Athletics Lose Chance to Win.
For nine innings the rival clubs battled without advantage, brilliant fielding and thrilling coups shutting out runs that appeared assured. In the tenth with the shades of darkness settling over the park the final scene occurred. The Athletics had a chance to win in the ninth and many thought poor generalship on the bench and coaching lines threw away the one opportunity that the fortunes of baseball cast their way.

Aside from the brilliancy of Mathewson the two teams were evenly matched. Plank was not quite as steady as his rival in the box giving two bases on balls and hitting one batter to Mathewson's solitary pass. The Giants secured seven hits off Plank to the Athletics eight from Mathewson who struck out five batters to Plank's six. New York had eight left on bases to Philadelphia's ten. Fletcher, McLean and Mathewson secured two hits each a total of six out of the seven recorded by the Giants. Baker was the only Athletic player to get to Mathewson for more than one hit, the home run batsmen being credited with two.

The spectators were noticeably fair in their treatment of the players of the two clubs, applauding every good play regardless of whether made by Athletic or Giant. Naturally they rooted hardest for an Athletic victory but when it was seen that Mathewson was invulnerable the thousands rose up and cheered the old master in a way that could not have been surpassed even at the Polo Grounds.

Herzog Leads Off for Giants.
With the Athletics in the field, Herzog led off for New York. He sent a high fly to Collins and the crowd cheered. Doyle also flew out and Fletcher ended the inning by striking out.

Murphy was the first of the Athletics to face Mathewson, who pitched "one ball." The second was a strike and then Murphy sent a slow grounder to Doyle, who let the ball go between his legs and Murphy was safe. Oldring slashed a single to left sending Murphy to second. Collins sacrificed, advancing both teammates. "Hit it back" shouted the Athletic rooters as the home run here stepped to the plate. Mathewson pitched a wide outshoot for Baker to bite at, but the slugger let it go by for a ball. The crowd shouted, but the "old master" quickly had two strikes on him, by Baker fouling the ball. On the next pitch the hard hitting third baseman was out on strikes. McInnis fled to Burns, leaving Murphy and Oldring stranded on the bases.

Burns, first up for New York, in the second inning, struck out on Plank's cross fire balls. Shafer flew out to Murphy and Murray struck out.

The Athletics did not trouble Mathewson in the second inning as much as they did in the first. Strunk shot a grounder to Doyle, who tossed the fast center fielder out by inches. Burns took care of Barry's high fly and Lapp went out by the strike out route.

Wiltse Tagged Out at Plate.
The best that Larry McLean could do in the third inning for New York was to pop up a fly to Barry. Snodgrass shot a single into left field and hobbled slowly to first. With Mathewson at bat Plank had little fear of Snodgrass trying to steal, even though he took a long lead off the base. The Philadelphia battery noticed this and Plank sent up a very wide out shoot which Lapp shot to McInnis, but Snodgrass was easily under the throw and safe at the bag.

Mathewson drove a long single to center field and Snodgrass beat the throw-in to third, the Giants pitcher going to second on the throw. Wiltse here replaced the crippled Snodgrass. Herzog batted a grounder to Plank who caught Wiltse between third and home and he was run down by Lapp. Mathewson moved up to third on the plays and Herzog took second. Doyle fled out to Oldring after having three balls and two strikes.

The American league champions were quickly disposed of in their half of the third. Plank was thrown out, Doyle to Wiltse, who replaced Snodgrass at first. Murphy tried to get away with a safe bunt, but Mathewson got the runner at first. Oldring shot a fast grounder to Herzog, who made a pretty throw to Wiltse, retiring the side.

Opening the fourth, Fletcher slashed the ball to Barry, who made a fine stop and throw to first, getting the ball there ahead of the runner. Burns struck out for the second time amid much cheering by the home crowd. Shafer hit a grounder to Baker, who had lots of time to get the ball to first, but threw low and Shafer was safe on the error.

Shafer Caught Stealing.
McGraw, who was coaching at first base, said something to Shafer and a moment later he darted for second in an attempted steal, but Lapp's throw to Collins beat him and he was out.

In the Athletics' half Collins hit to Mathewson and was out at first. Baker brought the fans to their feet by driving a hot single to right field. Baker went to second on McInnis' out, Doyle to Wiltse, Mathewson had two strikes on Strunk, but on the next throw presented the Athletic batter with the first base on balls of the game. With two smart runners on the bases and a brainy man at the bat, the crowd shouted for a run. The runners were off with the pitch and Barry hit the ball, but it bounded slowly to second, where Doyle scooped it and touched second, retiring the side.

New York managed to get two men on the bases in the fifth inning, after which Plank tightened up. Murray drove a fly to left, which Oldring easily held and McLean smashed a single close along the third base foul line. Wiltse struck out. Mathewson worked Plank for a base on balls. It was then up to Herzog, but the third baseman drove one at Collins and he was out at first.

Catcher Lapp was an easy out at first, in Philadelphia's fifth. Plank rammed a single between first and second. Murphy drove a long fly, to Burns and Oldring was thrown out by Fletcher.

The sixth inning was quickly over. Doyle, Fletcher and Burns going in one, two three order.

Connolly Calls Foul Ball.
In the Athletics' half umpire Connolly was booed when he called Collins grounder a foul. The ball was bounding along the third base foul line when Herzog got it and dropped it, the ball falling on foul territory. It was the second strike on Collins and he was called out on strikes as Mathewson shot the next ball across the plate. Baker drove a wicked grounder, but Fletcher got it and made a fine throw to first, while on the run, McInnis struck out.

In the seventh Shafer, Murray and McLean flew out.

One of the best catches of the day was made by Burns, who ran in and got Strunk's short fly almost off the grounds.

Barry hit to Herzog, who made a pretty throw to first ahead of the runner.

Lapp shot a single past Wiltse, but was left on first when Plank flew out to Fletcher.

Wiltse opened New York's half of the eighth by going out Collins to McInnis. Mathewson smashed a hard drive to rightfield. Murphy barely got up to the ball, picked it off his shoe tops and turned a somersault. He held the ball, however, and Umpire Egan, who was in right field, signalled that Murphy had made the out. Herzog hit a high fly to center for which Strunk had to do some sprinting to get. Mathewson's first real trouble came in the eighth with the top of the Athletics' batting order up. Murphy grounded out to Wiltse at first. Oldring was the second out, Fletcher to Wiltse. Collins brought the crowd to its feet by showing a single into left field. Baker sent a sharp single to left, Collins being held on second. McInnis ended the inning by forcing Collins at third, Herzog making the out unassisted. The ninth inning opened with Doyle flying out to Strunk. Fletcher brought cheers from the Giants' supporters by hitting to center field for the base. Burns received a base on balls, Fletcher moving to second. Shafer fled to Oldring, and Murray, amid tremendous cheering, sent up a fly to Murphy.

Athletics Lose Chance to Score.
Opening the Athletics' ninth, Strunk singled to center and the crowd cheered. Barry in attempting to sacrifice him hit a slow grounder toward second and Doyle running in picked up the ball and tossed it to first as Barry flashed over the bag. The throw was bad and Barry raced to second, Strunk stopping at third. It looked like a sure victory for the Athletics. All the New York infield surrounded Mathewson and after a short conference the big pitcher again went into the box. Lapp hit weakly to Wiltse and the latter shot the ball to McLean as Strunk rushed to the plate. McLean easily put the ball on the runner and he was out. Strunk not touching the plate as he slid past it. Barry moved up to third on the out. The excitement was great among the crowd. It was expected Mack would send in a pinch hitter for Plank. Plank, after reaching the plate, was called away but Mack decided to let the pitcher bat. Plank hit to Wiltse, who shot the ball to McLean, catching Barry coming home. Barry darted back toward third and McLean threw the ball to Herzog, who then returned it to Mathewson down the line and Barry was touched out. Lapp reached third and Plank second. Murphy ended the inning by sending an easy grounder to Mathewson who threw him out. It was great pitching on the part of Mathewson and he received generous applause as he walked to the plate.

Giants Score Three.
McLean opened the tenth with a single to right center. Grant, running for McLean, went to second on Wiltse's sacrifice, Plank putting the ball on Wiltse as he ran toward first. Mathewson then won his game by sending a slashing single to center on which Grant scored. Herzog shot a grounder at Collins but the latter threw the ball to Barry to force Mathewson. Barry appeared to lose sight of the ball and it went over his head as Mathewson reached second and he kept on to third as the ball rolled into center field, Herzog reaching second. Plank hit Doyle with a pitched ball and the bases were full. Fletcher caught one of Plank's fast inshoots on the end of his bat and drove it down the third base line. The ball took an unexpected bounce and shot far over Baker's head for a single on which Mathewson and Herzog crossed the plate.

Burns struck out for the third time and Shafer fled to Murphy. Mathewson held Philadelphia safe in the latter's half of the inning. Oldring went out, Herzog to Wiltse. Collins struck out and Doyle picked up Baker's grounder and tossed him out at first.

Giants Arrive in New York.
New York, Oct. 8.—New York's baseball heroes, conquerors of the Athletics for the day at least, arrived here from Philadelphia early this evening and ran into a misty rain and a welcoming delegation of several hundred "fans." A mighty shout greeted Christy Mathewson when he stepped from the train.

"Big Six" accepted the ovation

CHICAGO AMERICANS WIN FROM NATIONALS

WHITE SOX TRIM CUBS IN SERIES OPENER 6 TO 4.

Both Cheney and Russell Are Pounded Hard—Scott Saves the Game For the Sox When He Replaces Russell in the Eighth With Two Cubs on Bases and One Out.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The Chicago Americans hammered out a six to four victory over the Nationals in the first game of the local championship series today. It was a hard hitting contest both pitching stars, Cheney of the Nationals undergoing severe punishment. Russell finally was taken off the slab in the eighth when the Cubs had men on second and third and one out, Scott saving the game for the South Siders. Cheney was succeeded by Lavender when he retired in the eighth to let Williams bat for him.

The virtually lost in the first inning by Cheney. Weaver and Lord were easy outs and the Cub pitcher had two strikes on Chase. The Americans' first baseman then waited for four balls, refusing to "bite" at Cheney's benders and Bodies also walked. Collins then drove a liner to left which Schulte failed to judge accurately and the hit went for a triple. Chase and Bodie scoring. Evers and Sailer got Chapell. Schalk sent a hit into the crowd which by the ground rules went for two bases and scored on Berger's single to right in the fourth. The National leaguers then began their uphill fight. Good's single and Bridwell's two base hit giving them their first run in the fourth.

In the sixth Collins doubled, moved up on Chapell's sacrifice and scored on the "squeeze" beating Cheney's throw to the plate on Schalk's bunt which was credited as a "Cincinnati" base hit. Schalk took second on Berger's out and counted on Russell's safe hit.

Bridwell Throws Wildly.
Russell's hit was stopped by Bridwell who threw wildly as well as late to first base and the big pitcher sprinted to second. Weaver then shot one to right and Manager Callahan coached Russell to tear for the ball. A hot relay lead to Evers to Archer, nailed Russell at home and the result of his fast running weakened the pitcher so that his offerings in the sixth were found by Sailer for a single and by Good for a home run.

Doubles by Lord and Bodies counted the former in the seventh and Russell partly rested got through unscathed in the Cub half, though Leach opened with a double. In the Nationals' eighth Sailer slammed the first ball pitched against the score board and trotted around the bases. Good was out on a close play but Weaver's fumble and Archer's double put men on second and third, with one out. Evers sent Phelan to the plate in Cheney's place but at eight of the pinch hitter Callahan withdrew Russell and substituted Scott. In place of Phelan, Evers hit pinch hitter and Scott struck him out. Leach with three hits at ready to his credit could not make the fourth, sending a grounder to Berger and Scott had saved the game.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Hold taut the gib and trim the sail. Man overboard ahead! Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion, who is regarded as the tightest wad who ever broke into the boxing game, has given a $100 cup to be competed for in a free-for-all pace to be held at the California Driving club's next matinee at San Francisco. Willie is in need of a guardian. Such reckless extravagance is likely to land him upon the "farm" near Berkeley.

Edward Davis, captain of the Indiana university football team, is not going to recover from the injury sustained in his knee during the game last Saturday in the contest against Stagg's team at Chicago. Advice from Bloomington, Ind., are that the husky captain will be out of the game the balance of the present season at least. Other cripples upon the Hoosier team are rounding to and will get into practice today.

President McCaffery of the Toronto club in the International league is up in a war upon steel spikes now worn by baseball players. The Canuck team suffered much the past season owing to the spiking of several of their best players, and McCaffery is going to adopt the lacrosse spikes, which are of hard rubber and are less liable to injure players in contact.

Howard Drew, the colored sprinter, who recently covered 100 yards on a trotting track at Hartford, Conn., in 1:09.35, will not be credited with the mark, which is equal to the world's record held by Arthur Duffey. The colored man was timed by race horse clocks, and the red tape of the American Amateur union permits no records except those in which its representatives officiate. Drew was flashed in his flight by half a score of timers and all were agreed that he had equaled Duffey's record. In fact, he lowered the title holder's time when he covered the distance upon an ordinary trotting track, which is more difficult than the regulation "cinder and tan bark."

Joe Tinker's Cincinnati red legs have at last found a team they could wallop. In a game at West Baden, Ind., they defeated the Sprudels, a squad made up of rubbers from the bath houses at Tom Taggart's pluto springs.

President Wilson is a busy man these days. Boosting his currency plan, forming schemes for the criminal prosecution of the steel and harvester combines, etc., are mere toys when compared to the Athletic-Giant battles. A special ticker giving the games play by play has been connected with his desk in the white house, and he holds to the tape until taps are sounded.

Indianapolis is making vast improvements in its speedway for next year's automobile races. New stands are being constructed, and when completed will be capable of seating 60,000 people. Aside from three trophies, the cash prizes will amount to $50,000 for the 1914 dare devil feats.

Betting on the turn of the world's series in New York suffered a chill after Tuesday's game. Previous to that time the layers were quoting $10 to $9 on the Giants. Monday evening the pool-makers dropped to even money and were short on taking any big sums on that lay. It is estimated that in Gotham alone the pencilers stand to win $1,000,000. In Wall Street many individual bets of $1,000 each have been made among the bulls and the bears.

Prosecutor Whitman of New York is "going after" the politician scalpers of world's series coupons. The secretary of the Giant baseball corporation has been called before the grand jury, and a thorough threshing out of the nefarious business is promised.

Michigan squad of gridiron veterans are to be relegated to the rear if Coach Yost's plan to force the "freshies" to the front succeeds.

Chronic Dyspepsia.
The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7, Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. (adv.)

PACES FINAL MILE OF TENNESSEE STAKE IN 2:03 1/2.

Murphy's Gelding Breaks World's Record for Fifth Heat and Wins Tennessee Stake After Losing Third and Fourth Heats to Flower Direct—No Harness Races at Springfield.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—Frank Bogash, Jr., lowered the world's record for the fifth heat today, when he won the Tennessee stakes, the free-for-all pacing feature of the Grand Circuit racing on the Lexington track, going the final mile in 2:03 1/2. The son of Frank Bogash won the first and second heats, but lost the third and fourth to Flower Direct. He came back strong in the fifth and won in a drive by a narrow margin. The time in the third heat of this stake, 2:10, was within half a second of the record and was the fastest mile of the year.

Running events were staged on the half mile track this afternoon.

New World's Running Record.
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 8.—J. N. Camden's Brimhurst a two-year-old gelding established a new world's running record for 5 1/2 furlongs at the Churchill Downs track this afternoon, going the distance in 1:04.35. This reduces by one-fifth of a second the record established by Lady Irma at Santa Anita Park, Calif., in December, 1908.

Pandorina, the 3-year-old filly owned by Mrs. L. A. Livingstone of New Jersey, today won the four-mile Endurance stake on Churchill Downs course in 7:27.15. Flora Fina was second and Prince Eugene third. Flora Fina, after making up a quarter of a mile in the last, dropped fifty feet beyond the finish. The estimated value of the Endurance stake is $15,000, of which $10,500 goes to the winner, $3,000 to the second and $1,500 to the third horse. In addition the winner's portion of this rich cash stake, Mrs. Livingstone received a gold cup valued at $1,000.

ALL COUNTIES BUT TWO MEET ROAD LAW CONDITIONS

Statement Made Public by State Engineer Shows Gratifying Interest in Highway Betterment.

The Morgan county commissioners have complied with all conditions of the Tice road law thus far. That is the board has filed with the State Highway commission a map of the roads which it is proposed to make state aid roads and a list of men from whom superintendent may be chosen.

Only two counties in the state have decided not to accept state aid for highway improvement as provided in the new Tice good roads law. A report made public Wednesday by A. N. Johnson, engineer of the State Highway commission, shows that every county in Illinois with the exception of Knox and McLean has signified in some way their intention to comply with the new act.

Seventy of the counties have fully complied with the law by filing county maps of roads which it is proposed to improve. Thirty others have filed lists of superintendents, but have not offered their maps and forty of the entire one hundred counties thus represented have adopted resolutions which have put them in line for the state aid for this year.

Filing Date Has Expired.

The last date for filing lists of applicants for highway superintendents from which the superintendent for the county is to be chosen by competitive examination later in the month, was October 1. The thirty-two counties which have not filed these lists may either accept a superintendent provided by the State Highway commission or will have to wait until next year before securing such an official. Gallatin county has already expressed a willingness to accept the superintendent whom the state board may select and will submit no list of its own.

Great Interest Shown.

The highway commission is highly gratified with the general interest shown in the new law and it is believed that next year every county in the state will be in line for its share of the appropriation for that year for highway building.

The thirty counties which have filed lists of applicants for highway superintendents but have not filed county maps as yet are:

Alexander, Brown, Calhoun, Champaign, Christian, Clay, Clinton, Cook, Effingham, Franklin, Gallatin, Grundy, Hancock, Hardin, Jefferson, Lake, Logan, Macoupin, Montgomery, Perry, Pulaski, Saline, Scott, Stark, Tazewell, Warren, Washington, White, Whiteside and Woodford.

All of the other counties, with the exception of Knox and McLean, have filed both maps and lists of candidates for superintendents.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. (Adv.)

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The case of Raymond Drouilhet, indicted on a charge of murdering his wife, was called in court today for trial. Mrs. Drouilhet met her death in her home on August 31 last. During a quarrel it is alleged Drouilhet hit his wife over the heart with his fist. She died almost instantly. The husband fled the city and was arrested several days later at Temple.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

The low stage of water in Morgan lake is favorable for the fixing of the bridge across the water and the park commissioners have decided to make some repairs in order to render all safe. The abutments are insecure and now that the season is over some work will be undertaken. It will have to be done piecemeal and not all at once but it is the intention of the board to work as fast as circumstances will permit and have the bridge in good shape as soon as possible.

Remember our 99 days church attendance campaign is now on. Let us pledge one another to be in our place at the Lord's day services and to do all in our power to get others to do so. This is an effort to get every member of the church to attend the Lord's day services regularly.

WOMAN ESCAPES DREADFUL OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MARKET LETTERS.

Kansas City Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 6.—Shipments of 35,000 stock cattle and feeders to country points last week indicated plenty of room in the corn states for cattle yet, and an advance of 10 to 25 cents during the week pointed to a strong desire for them still existent. Receipts here today amount to 28,000 head, and the market is steady to strong all around.

Free entry of cattle carries small danger to cattle prices in the opinion of most of the trade. Mexican imports will be disseminated over the Texas and other ranges without any effect on market quotations and imports from Canada at Buffalo and elsewhere will exert only a local influence. The effect of these conditions, together with imports of chilled or frozen meats, may eventually bring gradually descending prices, but the total effect will be slight, according to those who believe the number of meat eaters is increasing faster than the production of meats.

An example of pork production in September will illustrate. At leading American markets hog receipts increased 358,000 head in September this year over September last year, 38 per cent, yet there was a barely perceptible lowering of prices during the month, although values averaged practically the same as a year ago. Country demand calls for all classes of cattle, Illinois buyers taking near fat steers at $8.00 to $8.50, and Iowa fancy light stockers and $8.25 and heavy ones at $7.75. Good business cattle may be bought at $6.50 to $7.00, and common steers downwards to $5.40. A year ago top feeders brought $7.40, best stockers, $7.25. Buyers are ready with answers for the faith that impels them to buy certain kinds of cattle. Mr. Gus Miller of Osage, Iowa, said in an interview here last week: "The lighter weight stockers appeal to me. The 500 pound calves will add a pound in weight as soon as a large steer, and a half dozen of them will gain, say six pounds a head, or 36 pounds total, while a big steer is gaining six pounds, and the total amount of feed consumed is but little more." J. A. Day of Gilmore City, Iowa, said: "My cattle purchase in Kansas City consist of heifers and steers. Heifers can be fed, or they can be kept and used for breeding purposes, which makes them very desirable cattle to have." Colorado and the panhandle country in Texas are not shipping freely and will furnish a large share of the supply the balance of this month. These cattle are among the best bred cattle that come to Kansas City and are strong favorites with many cattlemen.

COMMITTEE BUSY PREPARING PROGRAM FOR INSTITUTES

Meetings at Different Sunday Schools of the County Will Be Held From Oct. 20 to 31.

A committee of the Morgan County Sunday School Association is now busily engaged in preparing a program for the county institutes that are to be held in the different schools of the county October 20 to 31. The reports of the various officers are being printed and mailed to all the schools in the county.

Clarence L. DePew, retiring chairman of the executive committee of 1912-1913, which is composed of A. A. Curry, W. H. Crum, A. C. Rice and J. H. Rayhill Jr., has completed his report, which follows:

"To the School-workers of Morgan county:

"Dear Friends: The County Sunday School Association are a link in the chain of the largest organization in the world, the Sunday Schools. It is a part of the Illinois Sunday school association which is a part of the great International Sunday School Association. This organization furnishes us with the uniform lessons used by the schools since 1872 and the new series of graded lessons, now rapidly coming into general use, so every time you hold a session of your school, you are receiving directly the benefits of organized Sunday School work.

"But this is only one phase of the work. There are many things to be considered in our work of teaching, particularly that of the needs and nature of the pupils. A careful study of these lines has resulted in the modern school, graded, with division and departments. Each of these departments have peculiar needs of their own, so the Sunday school organization have the finest specialist they can find to help in the elementary-birth to 12; Secondary work, 12 to 20; the important 'Teen Age' period, now being so carefully studied; and the Adult Division, that great section of the Sunday School that has made such a marvelous advance the past few months or years.

"Then there is the work of the various Departments, such as the Teacher Training, Missionary, Temperance, Home, Purity, Etc., all of these being studied, planned for and pushed by some of the greatest Sunday school experts of the day. A careful study of the Sunday school of today compared with that of ten years ago will show the marvelous advance that has been made in these, and other lines as well.

"Through the complete organization even down to the precincts, which includes every Sunday school in that territory, the work of these specialists is brought to the remotest school of the land. Our own county association is helping in this direction and one of the best campaigns we have yet held, from the point of setting new ideas to the schools, was the series of institutes held in most of the precincts of Morgan county by George W. Miller, and other workers. Many good reports of the benefits of these institutes are still going to your county workers.

"We feel that this was the most profitable expenditure of money of the county officers, have made, and recommend that this same line of service be adopted by the new committee.

"We wish to thank heartily the schools and the individuals whose co-operation and support have made work of the past year possible. We most heartily solicit this fellowship for the new year's work, and bespeak your hearty participation in the plans the new committee may have for our Sunday school year of 1913-1914.

"Clarence L. DePew,
For the Executive Committee of 1912-1913."

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers. Neglect.

For Two Worlds."

Sunday.

3:00 p. m. Service for men only; "Startling Revelations in Jacksonville."

7:00 p. m. Last service of the union revival series. "Is It Nothing to You?"

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation" was the text Wednesday evening at the revival, on which Dr. Rees built a pointed sermon to the unsaved and a warning to those who, with regard to the things of the spirit, persist in a policy of neglect. He said that no one should allow himself to be kept away from Christ on account of dislike of revivals or of evangelistic methods.

The attendance was large and the interest was good in this fourth of the last evening service of the union revival. Especially encouraging was the number who attended the prayer service in Northminster church after adjournment from the tent. A novel musical feature was a whistling chorus of a number of boys who accompanied one of the hymns. Miss Helen Jones of the Woman's college sang with her usual art, "There's a Land Mine Eye Hath Seen." The service was opened with prayer by Dr. A. B. Morey and led in the reading of scripture by the Rev. Frank Gruenewald. Taking his text from Hebrews, 2:3, Dr. Rees said in part:

"That is not a light question, to be lightly asked and then waited to one side, for a soul is trembling in the balance. That question has come thundering down the ages for 1800 years. It isn't answered yet. Why? Because there is no other way of escape, only by accepting so great a salvation. Words fail to picture the greatness of salvation. It is great because of Him who brought it, the Son of God. It is great because of its cost. It is great because of its power; because of its marvelous conception by God in the beginning, and because it is free to all. Again, it is great because of its admirable adaptability and finally it is great because by accepting it we become sons of God.

"Escape from what? From the consequences of sin; from the penalty of our transgression, for transgression is sin. You cannot escape on the theory that all are going to be saved, for Jesus says strive to enter at the straight gate; many shall seek to enter and not be able. You cannot escape from the penalty of sin on the theory that a good, moral life will bring this great salvation. That theory has wrecked many a soul. You cannot escape by your intellectual qualifications, for even these come from God. They are not yours; they are God's. But, friends, your greatest weakness lies in the fact that we neglect salvation. Neglect your business, an assignment follows; neglect your work, you lose your position, or neglect your health and you will soon be an invalid. It is identically the same in your spiritual life, and poor, weak humanity drifts on and on, over the great Niagara and the soul is forever lost. Change now, right here, this night. Listen to the call of Jesus, 'Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in unto him and he will sup with him and he will be with me.' There is one more important thought. It is regarding the way. There are some who do not like to come, they say, because they do not like the way; they do not like what is generally termed the evangelistic method of induction into church. If you have conscientious scruples, I assure you they shall be respected, but for your own soul's sake do not neglect to accept Christ."

STATE FAIR VISITORS.

FROM JACKSONVILLE.

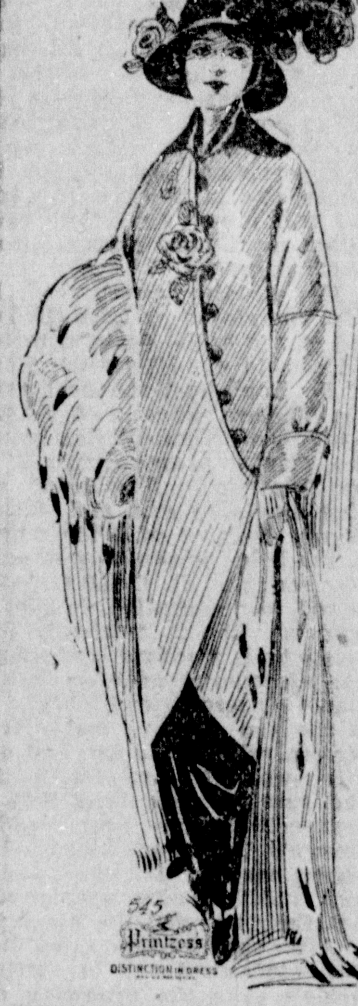

Among those attending the state fair from Jacksonville and vicinity Wednesday were Mrs. Allen Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Abel, Mrs. J. W. Cronk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Caldwell, Mrs. Frank Eades, Miss Viola Duncan, Theodore Watson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Berryman, Fred Goodrick, F. J. Waddell, Edson Hall, Cass Ham, William Sooy, J. B. Senge, Mrs. Spencer Self and daughter Helen and Miss Harriet Andre.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers. (adv)

SETTLED CLAIM.

R. L. Miller of Peoria, assistant secretary of the Illinois Traction System Hospital association, was in the city Wednesday settling the claim from the death of George J. Hocking. Mr. Hocking was a trustee of the association.

"Years of Experience Have Proven to Me That the MAJESTIC Range IS the Best"

"Strange, that for years, I couldn't see that trying to get good work from an old, worn-out range, merely to save the price of a new one, was not true economy. My Great Majestic has more than earned its cost in the saving of fuel alone, because the open seams and joints in my old, worn-out range where the bolts were loose and the putty had crumbled away, made me burn twice as much fuel as necessary.

"Talk about luck in baking—'luck' is nothing but good oven and my Majestic oven is simply perfect. I can depend on it absolutely every day. I believe father and the children are happier and I know we have better meals at less expense with our Majestic."

WILL MAKE COMPLAINT TO GOVERNOR DUNNE

Morgan County Democrats Determine That the Time Is at Hand
For Making Protest Because of Failure to Land Jobs.

A recent meeting of the Democratic Morgan county central committee was held for the avowed purpose of preparing a protest to Gov. Dunne because of his failure to appoint more Morgan county Democrats to positions of trust and honor and salary. It was in fact a session of protest and it was decided that each committeeman should select two men from his precinct to serve as members of a general committee of protest who will wait upon the governor and tell him plainly how great is the sorrow and how great is the chagrin of Morgan county democracy when they count up the total number of jobs which have been distributed by the governor and then count the number allotted to Morgan county. The committee has not been fully organized as yet nor has the date of the pilgrimage to Springfield been fixed but it is the intention to pour a long, loud and vigorous protest into the governor's ear at some early date. No doubt the governor will be delighted to receive this delegation and to hear from their lips the real facts as to why more jobs should be forthcoming.

SPECIAL WEEK

BACK FROM CONFERENCE.
Rev. George T. Shaw has been returned as pastor of Bethel A. M. E. church for another conference year and has returned from Quincy, where the sessions of the body were held. There was some effort to make the reverend gentleman a presiding elder but he and his wife who was also present, opposed the movement and the endeavor was dropped.

Mrs. Shaw returned sooner than her husband and went to Springfield, taking with her a number of children to enjoy the fair.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be cordially welcomed back by the people with which they have labored so faithfully and successfully and they will doubtless have another good year with the old time church.

IS JACKSONVILLE SATISFIED?

The Evidence Is Convincing. The Testimony Open to Investigation.

Before a statement can be accepted here, it must be supported by local testimony—by the evidence of some one residing in Jacksonville. Statements from unknown people in remote places may be true, but we cannot prove them. Here is a state-ment from a Jacksonville resident, Charles Godfrey, 335 South Church street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "All I said a few years ago praising Doan's Kidney Pills holds good. They did me a great deal of good and I advise their use in cases of weak back and other kidney troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured from Armstrong's Drug Store and are worthy of a trial."

"When Your Back Is Lame—Rement by a Jacksonville resident: Charles Godfrey, 335 South Church street. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Godfrey had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. FARWELL & RHINES' GLUTEN FLOUR

The pure food laws of the United States and of individual states demand that flour called "Gluten Flour" for the use of diabetics, and others, shall contain at least 5.6 per cent of nitrogen, this factor multiplied by the factor 6.25 (in use by Analysts) shows the amount of protein or gluten required to 35 per cent. Both the physician and his diabetic patient have a right to expect and insist that such a product be furnished. Substitution, carelessness or deception in this matter are dangerous.

Our "Gluten Flour" of superior stock, granulation and manufacture, is made especially for such cases, and contains about 40 per cent of gluten or protein. It is not excelled, in America or Europe, as diet in marked case of Diabetes Mellitus, Obesity, Rheumatism and other ills arising from excess of uric acid.

Saving Steps

The greatest boon that has been given to the housekeeper of today is the modern kitchen cabinet. And among kitchen cabinets, "Sellers' Kitcheneeds" stands head and shoulder above the rest.

It cuts the drudgery of kitchen work almost squarely in two. It brings everything necessary in cooking, together, all ready for use. It allows the housewife to spend hours of her time, that would otherwise be spent in "chasing after" things, in leisure or at some more pleasant occupation.

Because everything is right at hand, within easy reach, it enables you to do a large part of your work seated at the cabinet, entirely doing away with long hours of wearisome standing and walking about.

"Sellers' Kitcheneed" contains dozens of conveniences that you cannot fully appreciate until you have used one. It contains more distinctive, sanitary and economical features than any other cabinet made. There is a reason for this. For almost a quarter of a century the "Sellers' Company has made nothing but kitchen furniture, always studying and experimenting in their effort to in some way improve their product. As a result, Kitcheneed offers you splendid advantages that no other kitchen cabinet can, and at prices that other concerns could not afford. Don't you think that you would appreciate these things—excellent appliances that not only save hundreds and hundreds of footsteps every day, but make your work lighter and keep things better as well? We know you would.
